

Public Service Ethics and Accountability/Orientation on Environmental Laws

In compliance with the Rules and Implementation of RA 6713 (Code of Conduct and Ethical Standards for Public Officials and Employees) Rule III, Section 1, geared to promote the skill and value development of government officials and employees, the Environmental Management Bureau for Region 4A has conducted a Public Service Ethics and Accountability Seminar as well as an Orientation on Environmental Laws to professionalize, educate and enhance skills of all employees and reflect this acquired skills and knowledge for the improved performance of their duties and responsibilities.

The Office of the EMB Region 4A hopes that with the conduct of this activities, its employees may continue to uphold their high ethical standards in public service and cater an improved quality of service that shall be representative of the name and image of EMBR4A – upholding integrity and competence in their everyday endeavors.
